The large modern San Fernando Clinic is located across from the entrance to the Equestrian Club. Panama's Pacific coast has been recognized as one of the best places in the world to spend the golden years of life for Panamanians and foreigners alike. It is not just retirees interested in the area, but more young people and families are also exploring the Pacific beaches! Coronado was Panama's first resort community and has since become the central hub of Panama's Pacific coast. The beach region continues to grow not only as a retirement destination, but as a place to enjoy the weekend and escape from the city rush. One of the area's appeals is its proximity to modern shopping plazas, grocery stores, banks, medical centers, veterinarian offices, international schools, restaurants, golf courses, and of course the beach! Coronado is rated by MSN Money as one of top 5 beach cities in the world to retire.
